

Introduction to Tablet of Joseph

Contributed by Alison Marshall
Thursday, 08 December 2011
Last Updated Thursday, 08 December 2011

I am slowly working my way through the process of writing introductions to the translations on this site. Now I have completed an introduction to Tablet of Joseph. Most Baha'is are probably unfamiliar with this tablet because it was published in 1904 in a collection titled "Long tablets of the Manifestation", by the New York Baha'i Board of Counsel. A close facsimile of the original is found at the Baha'i Library Online. Because the original contains odd grammatical, spelling and usage choices, I edited it a little to make it easier for a modern reader to engage with the text. This version appears on this site here. The introduction appears here.